Other states are in the process of requiring certain considerations with the use of a laser in the dental practice. Please contact your state's Dental Association or the Academy of Laser Dentistry for updates on these requirements. As a laser user, you may also want to consider joining the Academy of Laser Dentistry. The Academy can help you with valuable industry information, training and safety. We have enclosed a membership application for your convenience.

You should also appoint a laser safety officer for your practice assuring the utmost in safety is practiced with use of any laser. Please refer to ANSI (American National Standards Institute) Z136.1 and Z136.3 regulations for guidance. You may obtain a copy of these regulations through the Laser Institute of America @ www.LaserInstitute.org
